Meeting was brought to order at 8:02pm. First order of business is the position of vendor relations. Jay asked if anyone was interested in this postion. John said he has had some experience with this. John will be the new Vendor Relations interium,we will open it up to the club to see if anyone wants the position. We will ask the general membership for volunteers and have a election. Next order of business is the Christmas party. Jay wants to know location,date and time. The date is December 16th 2007 at JJ North's Grand Buffet. Time from 3pm to 6pm. John will talk with Pat at PFO on Monday to confirm weather or not he wil be able to be a guest speaker at Christmas party. Some ideas were to have awards for varrious things, raffles, frag trade,auctions,raffles for the kids,a couple of games. We could do the quiz again it was a big hit at the BBQ. Jay asked John to go ahead and post a thread about the Christmas party. We can add as we go. Bob brought to our attenchen that Palani will not be able to host Novembers meeting. Bob suggested that we have a DIY that month. Some suggestions were a classroom Bob suggested maybe Joels classroom. Jay said the turn out was not very good. John suggested that he could talk to Scott. John will keep us updated. If this does not work out we may have a back up plan. We could meet at Reef Corals. Next order of business is the calendar for 2008. We won't be able to get it all done here, but we can start.Jay asked do we want to have our meetings at LFS or not. Bob said lets try and fill the calendar without them and see what spaces we have left. All agreed. John said maybe local business tours. John will talk to Pat at PFO. Brandy asked who was in charge of the tanks for teachers? Jay thought Bluecheese was. Bu it has never been talked about in our board meetings until now. Bob said that it will make it easier to get donations from larger companies. Brandy agreed. John asked if sponsors can pay via paypal. Jay responed by saying yes they can they just need to make a memo letting Brandy what it is for. Brandy needs to bring the checks to the next meeting so Jay can sign them and deposit them. Brandy needs to send John some sponsor forms. All agreed to meet again at Daves house at noon before the club meeting to decuss more club business and get updates.

Meeting ajournrd at 9:20pm
